NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brewerton were Lethbridge visitors Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Loran Larson, their son Burns, and Mr. and Mrs. Hildon Gibb were Sunday visitors in Magrath, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Matkin.

A truck load of corn was brought from Taber Wednesday night and distributed to people who had placed their orders with the haulers.

Last Sunday was observed throughout Canada as National Prayer Day and in all religious assemblies special prayers were offered for a quick and lasting peace.

Bill Witbeck received an airgraph from his son in England on Sept. 3d, and the letter written in England was dated Sept. 1st. This is about the fastest we have heard of.

T. H. Gould, Postmaster of Wetaskiwin, Alta., was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Allan. Mr. Gould was clerk in the Post Office here for 9 years and will be remembered by many local people. He is soon to be superseded by Mr. Government and retire on pension.

MERRILL DENISON

Merrill Denison, Canadian author and playwright, now resident in New York, wrote the scripts for the recently concluded CBC Sunday evening series entitled "Somewhere Before the Dawn." The series was based upon factual information obtained from the United Nations Information Office, New York. It told stories of men in occupied countries who refused to yield to the enemy.

Music Club Elects Officers

The regular meeting of the Music Club for September was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruth Salmon with Mrs. Emma Dahl as assisting hostess.

After singing "O Canada" the minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll called. The Club joined in two community songs, Miss Myra Dahl sang a vocal solo and Mrs. Emma Dahl played a piano solo.

The Secretary reviewed the activities of the past year, Mrs. Phoebe Dahl gave two readings, and Miss Dorothy Strong then made a presentation from the Club to Miss Ina Jones, who responded and thanked the Club for its generosity.

Officers for the coming year were then chosen as follows:

President, Mrs. Phoebe Dahl. Vice-Pres. Mrs. Dora Thompson.

Secretary, Mrs. Hilda Wyke. Organist, Mrs. Leah Jones. Chorister, Mrs. Emma Dahl.

Miss Dorothy Strong then thanked the members and the Club for the good work and splendid accomplishments of the past year and the meeting was adjourned.

The hostesses then served a most delicious lunch.

Frost Tuesday night nipped vegetation of all kinds. Cucumbers and tomatoes are finished for this season.

GOOD RECORD

The Brooks District Co-operative Livestock Shipping Association, organized only last spring recently made a refund of 20c. per hog and 5c. per lamb to its member patrons. The first shipment through the association was made on March 15th and for nearly every week since then livestock has been marketed through the co-operative.

The dividend was made possible through co-operative handling and the utmost economy in administration. The refund represents close to half the handling charges less trucking from the farm.

The experience of this co-operative shows that well managed and loyally supported co-operatives can make a real contribution.

Up-to-date

War Maps

We have connections with a Toronto firm who are preparing an up-to-the-minute map of all war fronts. We are now booking orders for these maps, but because of conditions it is essential that we have advance orders and money in hand before the maps are placed.

The 10 color maps are selling for 25c. locally and if you will leave your 25c. we will put your name down and get the order away. There is a specimen map in our window, but when it is printed the map will have the latest boundaries and war information on it. Come in today.

Italians Now Turn Against Nazis

NO LONGER FIGHT ALLIES —FLEET TOLD TO SAIL TO ALLIED PORTS—BADOGLIO SURRENDERS UNCONDITIONALLY TO ALLIES

By Edward Kennedy, Associated Press War Correspondent. Allied Headquarters, North Africa, Sept. 8. (A.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today announced the unconditional surrender of Italy in the great victory for Allied arms in four years of war.

Gen. Eisenhower announced he had granted a military armistice—approved by Russia as well as Britain and the United States—to the war-torn, tottering Axis partner being chewed by invasion.

Hitler's "European fortress" was cracked, the way was opened for new offensives, the course of the war immeasurably shortened.

Surrender of Italian armed forces "unconditionally" was made by the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio, successor of Benito Mussolini, the architect of Fascism.

Thus the Casablanca "unconditional surrender" ultimatum received its first application.

GRANTED MILITARY ARMISTICE

Announcing the news, Eisenhower, who led the Allied triumph in Tunisia and Sicily as well, declared:

"The Italian government has surrendered its armed forces, unconditionally.

"As Allied commander-in-chief, I have granted a military armistice, the terms of which have been approved by the governments of the United Kingdom, the United States and the Union of the Soviet Socialist Republics. Thus I am acting in the interest of the United Nations.

"The Italian government has bound itself to abide by these terms without reservation" and the armistice becomes effective "this instant," Eisenhower said in a broadcast at 11:30 a.m. C.D.T.

TRUCE SIGNED FRIDAY

The truce actually was reached last Friday at Allied advance headquarters in Sicily—the very day that British and Canadian troops swept across Messina strait to invade the Italian toe—but it was agreed, a special announcement said, that the armistice should come into force at a moment most favorable to the Allies, and be simultaneously announced by both sides.

"That moment now has arrived," said the announcement.

Badoglio issued a proclamation saying the armistice had been requested and granted, and called on all Italian armed forces to "cease all acts of hostility against Anglo-American forces wherever they may be met."

Badoglio instructed the Italians, however, to "oppose attacks from any other quarter"—a warning that German attempts to interfere would be met by arms.

Events may continue to move swiftly in the coming hours and days.

Italy's main contribution to Germany in the war was her geographical position, and this now is lost to the Germans except insofar as they may be able to hold on to part of northern Italy themselves.

PLANES SPREAD THE NEWS

As soon as the announcement was made, Allied planes roared over Italy—not to bomb but to bring the Italians the news that the Allies no longer are fighting them.

The planes dropped pamphlets telling the Italians that the opportunity has come to take "vengeance on the German oppressors."

The pamphlets declared: "Italians Backed by the might of the Allies, Italy now has the opportunity of taking vengeance on the German oppressors and aiding in the expulsion of the eternal enemy from Italian soil."

FLEET TOLD TO JOIN ALLIES

Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, Allied naval commander in the Mediterranean, broadcast a message to the Italian Fleet and merchant marine, telling them:

"The German armed forces have become the open enemy of the Italian people and intend to seize your ships."

Commanders of Italian ships were told to make Allied ports, "at worst, neutral ports."

Merchant vessels unable to make safe port were told:

"Do not let your ships fall into their (German) hands. In the last resort scuttle them or sabotage them rather than let them fall into the hands of the Germans to be used against Italy."

(In New York the FCC short wave listening post heard Badoglio broadcast his proclamation in person, in an address to the Italian people at 12:45 p.m. C. D. T. At that time the German and Japanese radios had made no announcement of the surrender.)

NO AXIS BROADCAST

(Axis radio stations broadcast nothing immediately on the capitulation. About an hour earlier the German radio told of fresh British troop landings near Pizzo, about 30 miles north of the place where British and Canadian troops had been last reported fighting.)

Today's communique said the terms of the armistice had been approved by the government of Great Britain, the United States and Russia, and "both parties have bound themselves" to abide by the terms

Ration Books May be Left

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Provision for the holder of a ration book owner to leave his book, card or a sheet from the book with his retailer, is contained in a consolidated order covering rationing rules, issued Tuesday by the prices board.

The order provides that the book, card or sheet left with the retailer must include the stub signed by the consumer. Every time a sale is made to the consumer, the retailer must detach enough coupons to cover the quantity delivered.

It was learned this provision applies to cash as well as to charge account customers. It applies to many housewives who deal steadily with the same retailer, in addition to those who order by telephone from one retailer and do not wish to take in ration books every time they intend to purchase rationed goods.—Lethbridge Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Loran Larson have had an entrance added to their home.

ALASKA ROAD COST U.S. ABOUT $115,000,000

Washington, Sept. 8.—The cost of the Alaska highway was set at $115,000,000 today in a report by Gen. George Marshall, United States Army Chief of Staff.

He revealed that 10,000 American troops were used in the construction of the 1,480 mile pioneer road between March and October in 1942.

"Improvements currently under way," the report continued, "provide for a 26-foot road-bed width, with surfacing placed to a width of from 20 to 22 feet. Local materials, including gravel and crushed stone, will be utilized in this surfacing."

"It is estimated that the cost of constructing the pioneer road, together with improving it to present proposed standards, will be $115,000,000, which figure includes the replacement of a considerable number of temporary structures destroyed during the recent spring thaw."

"Current improvements are scheduled for completion Dec. 31, 1943, and are going ahead largely by contract labor."

The Alaska highway was built under an agreement between Canada and the United States. Although built with American funds, it will become Canadian property after the war, with the stipulation that no discrimination be made against traffic originating in the United States.—Lethbridge Herald.

of the agreement.

Gen. Eisenhower said the agreement was signed by his representatives and those of Marshal Badoglio.

All hostilities will terminate at once, Gen. Eisenhower added.

The command-in-chief promised "all Italians who assist in the fight against the Germans will have the support of the United Nations."—Lethbridge Herald.

NEWS NOTES

Hildon Gibb of the Army Medical Corps was home on leave over the week-end.

Work is progressing steadily on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stone. T. K. Roberts is in charge of the work.

Godfrey Holmes has purchased a used 1939 Master Chevrolet Coach to replace the wrecked one of two weeks ago at Belly River.

Meeks Bros. started combining on their farm near the Buck Ranch Colony on Thursday. More rain fell over that area than nearer Raymond, and a good crop of No. 1 grain is expected.

The Sunday evening meetings in the Raymond wards were under the direction of the M.I.A.s and a very interesting program was presented, introducing the new theme for the coming year and also the coming winter's work. A good musical program added to the enjoyment of the evening.

J. G. Gibb and Lydell Roberts went to the Rosemary district last week to look over the farming land there, and especially some of the improved farms. I. B. Roberts and the ladies of the three drove over on Friday and joined the other two. "Gerry" said there were some very inviting tracts of farm land, but parts of the dry country in between were desolate and very uninviting.

ITALY FOLDS UP

After three years of fighting for a cause they never believed and into which they were led by a mad dictator, Italy has surrendered to the Allies, has ordered her ships into Allied ports and ordered her armies to cease opposition to the Allied forces, but to oppose any Nazi aggression or attack. It was a happy hour indeed through the Allied nations when the surrender was announced. Demonstrations were held in countless cities and towns and a real spirit of joy swept over everyone.

Just what effect this capitulation will have on the future of the war and the world no one can tell. It is evident on the face of it that millions of dollars of property damage and tens of thousands of lives will be saved by the surrender. It now places the Mediterranean unquestionably in the control of the Allied fleets and paves the way for landings of Allied armies right on the door step of Germany. It may also give courage to some of the occupied and dominated nations, whose sympathies have been on the side of the Allies to declare themselves openly and lend their assistance to the forces of liberty in their efforts to stamp out dictatorship and oppression. Norway, Denmark, Holland, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and other nations who have been oppressed, but still seething in revolution may now have strength and courage to declare themselves and with Allied aid throw off the yoke. At any rate we may assume that the length of the war will be greatly shortened by Italy's action.

Then too, the food and fuel shortage may be eased somewhat if supplies heretofore frozen by orders of Hitler can be liquidated and scattered around where they are so sorely needed, that is if there are any supplies left in any of these nations. The haul, which for some months required going at least to the African coast and then being re-shipped, can now be carried through the Mediterranean and unloaded closer to the base of army and airforce action. All in all, Italy's surrender means a great deal to the efforts of the Allies to free the world and maintain that spirit of freedom and liberty which all Anglo-Saxon and liberty loving peoples cherish so highly. To Italy it will mean the end of her participation in a losing fight led into the struggle by Mussolini when he was deluded with the thought and hope of a quick and bloodless victory, and a good slice of France as his reward, she has carried on halfheartedly in the face of continual setbacks, with an Army more and more fed up with the role she was playing. While there was great rejoicing amongst the Allies over her surrender, it must have been many times greater in Italy herself where for the first time in years the clouds began to lift and she could see some hope of peace, prosperity and happiness.

PROVINCIAL SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

The next regular term of the School of Agriculture at Olds will open on Tuesday, October 12th, 1943. A large attendance is expected and applications for entrance should be made as early as possible before the video. One in Agriculture for Two separate courses are pro opening date.

young men, and the other for young women in Home Economics and Household Management. In the Agricultural course are included studies in Animal Husbandry, Field Husbandry, Farm Mechanics, Horticulture, Dairying, Poultry, Farm Management, Entomology and Agricultural Economics. Study in Home Economics is confined chiefly to Sewing, Textiles, Foods, Cooking, Dietetics, Household Administration, Home Nursing and Laundering, but some time is also devoted to Horticulture, Poultry, Dairying and Chemistry. Instruction in English and Mathematics is also given in both courses.

The regular courses are of two terms duration, each term being approximately five and a half months. Opening in the middle of October and closing early in April, the courses are given during the time of the year when farm work is comparatively slack. Students are admitted to the school if they have sufficient knowledge of English to profit from the lectures. Most students have completed public school work and have spent at least one year in high school. A special course, of one term duration is provided for students who have completed grade XI or have 65 credits under the present High School Curriculum. This course does not include any English or Mathematics but covers most of the other work taken by first and second year students.

There are no tuition fees for students from Alberta, but those from outside the Province are charged a tuition fee of $25.00 per year. A modern dormitory provides good living accommodation for most of the students, although attendance at the school is usually so large that some of the male students have to live at boarding places in town. In the dormitory the cost of board and room is $24. per month with two students in a room.

An illustrated calendar containing application form and details of courses offered is available from the Principal, School of Agriculture, Olds, and will be mailed upon request.

Bishop Norton and Glen Stanford of Rosemary, Alberta were Conference visitors here and the Bishop spoke briefly in Conference, and in a Welfare meeting after Conference on the possibilities and opportunities for young men in the Eastern Irrigation District. They were also at Rotary Monday and answered a great many questions.

The Willing Horse

The elevator agent's job is buying, storing and shipping grain. He must also keep the elevator and its equipment clean and in good running order. For a large part of the year, this is a full-time task requiring knowledge, skill and experience.

We hear and read a lot about the contributions made by this group and that group to the war effort. Of course, the men in uniform overseas, and their wives and families undertake the greatest, if not the only, real sacrifice. Farmers, we think, are bearing an undue share of the burden. One has only to visit Ottawa to appreciate the strain under which government employees are working. All this is acknowledged in the newspapers and elsewhere; but what writer has taken up his pen on behalf of the country elevator agent?

Most of our readers know that country elevator concerns assist in war loan and Red Cross drives, have organized and carried out a magnificent scrap metal campaign, form an essential link in 1943 farm labour schemes, serve as distributors of pure seed at considerable expense, handle demonstration plots of field crops, offer various services such as germination tests, and so on.

Yes. This and more; but how many realize that the bulk of the burden falls on the shoulders of the elevator agent? As usual, the busy man finds time to help. The very essence of democracy is voluntary effort. These men are democrats.

STORE VICTORY GARDEN VEGETABLES

Proper storage of Victory garden crops for use during the winter is recommended by Mr. A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner. For potatoes, carrots, beets, parsnips and cabbage, a cool, well ventilated store room should be provided. The temperature should be kept below 40 degrees Fahrenheit and just above the freezing point. Storage in heated basements is unsatisfactory unless a room is partitioned off for this purpose. Partitions can be constructed with a two by four frame work, boarded in and filled with shavings. There should also be a window in the room to provide necessary ventilation. Onions require the cool temperature of root crops, but the air must be dry. Vegetables such as squash and pumpkins keep longer if stored in a dry atmosphere at temperatures ranging between 40 and 60 degrees.

Bruised crops will not store satisfactorily, and care in harvesting is important. The organisms which cause root rots enter through broken surfaces. Tops should be removed from vegetables such as carrots, beets, etc., and one half inch of the stem should be allowed to remain in order to avoid damage to the crowns. All vegetables must be dry when put away for winter use.

NEWS NOTES

Alma Smith of the R.C.A.F. spent the Labor day Holiday at home.

In a late season hail storm last week, Zaugg Bros. and Russell Hartley of Stirling lost fields of flax and wheat which was just ready for the combines. In fact, the combines had been pulled into the fields the night before, expecting to start on the fields the next morning. The hail beat them to it.

WARNING
COAL WILL BE SCARCE NEXT WINTER !!!

Prepare your home now for adequate warmth with smaller fuel consumption

TO SAVE COAL CHECK THESE POINTS

HOW TO GET MORE HEAT

Pipes and furnaces must be clean, and grates in good order. If one or two rooms are hard to heat, you are wasting fuel. A minor adjustment can probably remedy this. Have a competent man check your heating system, and make necessary repairs. Insulate your furnace and pipes when necessary.

HOW TO AVOID HEAT LOSSES

Storm windows and doors must fit snugly and be weatherstripped. Lack of storm windows can cause as much as 20% heat loss. Caulking should be done around windows, doors and in cracks in brick work (some hardware stores have caulking guns for rent). Broken glass should be replaced, and loose panes puttied. Small expenditures on such work will save much fuel.

HOW TO SAVE STILL MORE

You can save fuel and money by having your home properly insulated. It is a proven fact that in many homes lack of adequate insulation (including storm windows) results in unnecessary consumption of fuel—up to as much as 50%. Watch for later instructions on how to fire your furnace properly.

HAVE YOUR HOME INSPECTED FOR HEATING AND INSULATION DEFECTS

Get advice now! Skilled workmen and supplies are scarce. If you delay in getting your home ready for winter you may not be able to get the services you need.

Chateau Frontenac Houses Momentous Conference

LONG famous as a meeting place for world travellers in Quebec City—where sea lanes and rail lines converge—the stately Chateau Frontenac, one of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's finest hotels was taken over by the Government for one of the most important international gatherings in history when Prime Minister Winston Churchill, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King conferred there on the conduct of the war. Dominant feature in the landscape of the Ancient Capital, as illustrated here towering above historic Lower Town, the Chateau accommodated the staffs which prepared the material for the decisions taken and provided the main assembly and committee rooms. Helping to house the leading figures at the conference, who are shown in the insets, was the Citadel which is on the extreme left of the picture on the same level as the Chateau Frontenac. From left to right: Mr. Churchill, Mr. Mackenzie King and Mr. Roosevelt.

AGRICULTURE CONDITIONS

Compiled from reports of correspondents by Agricultural Extension Service for the period ending September 1, 1943. Issued under the direction of the Hon. D. B. MacMillan, Minister of Agriculture.

GENERAL: Except for south-eastern Alberta, agricultural conditions are satisfactory. Early crops are being cut and late crops are ripening. In general the weather has been quite favourable for harvest.

FIELD CROPS: Cutting is well advanced in Southern Alberta. Many of the fields have already been combined or threshed. Yields will be light in south-eastern Alberta.

Cutting is general for most of the remainder of the province, with prospects of satisfactory yields. Some westerly crops are still green and cutting will be very late.

Frost now becomes the greatest menace because of the lateness of the season. Up to the present, weather conditions have been favourable.

LIVE STOCK: A shortage of fall pasture and winter feed is evident in areas where drought reduced pasture and hay crops.

Early sales of live stock from these areas are underway.

With harvest in full swing and farmers busy with these operations, live stock marketings in the past week were very moderate.

At the Calgary market good butcher steers bought at $11.25 to $11.75, good stocker and feeder steers $10.00 to $10.50, with good veals $11.50 to $12.50. Hogs remained steady at $15.40 for basic grades. Lamb prices were $3.00 lower in line with the new price ceiling; good quality selling from $9.50 to $10.00.

At the Edmonton market carlots of steers sold up to $12.00 and suitable stockers at $9.00 to $10.25, with good veals $11.50 to $12.50. Hogs were lower with B-1 bringing $15.25 to $15.35. Lamb prices showed a sharp decline with good lambs $9.00 to $9.50.

Young Housewife—These eggs are very small.

Grocer—Straight from the farm this morning, madam.

Young Housewife—That's the trouble with these farmers. They're so anxious to get their eggs sold they take them off the nest too soon.

SUCCESSION DUTIES PAID

The following statement regarding succession duties on the estate of the late Premier William Abernart was issued by Premier Ernest C. Manning in Edmonton on Friday, August 27th, 1943.

"A certain section of the public and the public press have voiced disapproval of a recent government order-in-council remitting succession duties on the estate of the late Premier William Abernart.

"The government authorized the remission sincerely believing that such action would be considered right and proper in that Mr. Abernart's death occurred while serving the high office of premier and, particularly, in view of the fact that circumstances prevented a state funeral being held, the cost of which properly would have been borne by the province.

WILL OF PEOPLE

"However, it is the expressed determination of the government at all times to administer public affairs of the people of the Province in accordance with their expressed will.

"Accordingly, in view of the disapproval that has been voiced, the government has cancelled the remission order, and the succession duties on Mr. Abernart's estate have been paid in full."

THE FIRST CO-OP. WAS BORN

Some little clouds at break of day,

Tinted by rising sun,

And in the dawn they floated on

And mingled into one

Then others joined the floating mass,

All turning now to gray,

And as they swept on westward

A mighty force were they.

Two rippling summer currents

Flow swiftly to their meeting,

And join their course with silent force

In peace each other greeting.

As on and on toward the great sea

By others joined they ran,

United to a driving power,

A lesson, this, to man.

And so some earnest thinkers

Gather into a band,

Knowing well for weal or woe

United they should stand.

Undaunted, though the way seemed dark,

Steadfast they stood till morn

And lo! with breaking sunlight

The first Co-op was born.

—Mary Grover Miller.

HARVEST MOVES

Further details about the movement of harvest equipment were revealed by Mr. Putnam in the same broadcast. Transportation charges will be paid by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, he said, to owners or operators of equipment "in Southern Alberta who move their machinery north into other districts." Equipment must not be moved less than 50 miles, Mr. Putnam pointed out, and moves over this distance must be authorized by the Department so as to qualify for the subsidy.

The broadcast was closed with an appeal to town and city people to assist with harvesting. Assistance is urgently needed concluded Mr. Putnam, and those who can spare the time will not only be rendering "a great service to the farmers and the nation but they will also enjoy some healthful outdoor work and will receive reasonably good pay in return."

R. H. EMERSON

The North-West Line Elevators Association is comprised of the owners and operators of 3,400 country grain elevators located throughout the prairie provinces and terminal elevators at the Head of the Great Lakes and on the Pacific Coast with a total storage capacity of approximately 274,000,000 bushels. The Association was organized in 1899 "for the purpose of formulating rules to govern transactions between its members in the handling and shipping of grain, with the object of reducing expenses of handling the crop of the country to a minimum." Since the formation of the Association charges for handling grain have been reduced to a point where Canada is recognized as having the most efficient and economical grain handling system in the world. The Association has extended its activities to act as a service organization for prairie farmers and operates its own agricultural department for the benefit of the prairie farmer.
